

ABSTRACT

The present invention provides a coating composition useful for protecting and cleaning surfaces from markings and soiling. The present invention further provides a process for coating and cleaning surfaces using the provided composition.